

Council split on controversial tax issue

By Frank Ryan

Deputy Mayor Jean Saunders had to provide the tie-breaking vote last Thursday on one of the most controversial issues to be discussed in council chambers in some time.

Ery and Judi Schwandt asked town council for a cancellation of an 18-per-cent tax penalty they had received for not paying their 1989 taxes on time.

In a letter to council, it was explained that Ery Schwandt had gone to the town office on May 20 requesting his tax notice. He was informed that it would be sent out.

Due to a hectic summer, the Schwandts missed paying their taxes on time.

"I've lived in Drayton Valley for three years and never had a tax problem," he told members of council.

Charlie Miner said he was against the cancellation. He appreciated the comments that had been made, but felt there was plenty of time to pay the taxes.

He got support from Dave Lundberg. "If we don't support the motion we have the 18-per-cent penalty paid! we can expect a flood of requests," he stated.

"I wouldn't like to make an exception," Lundberg added.

Councillor Tom McGee felt Schwandt should've been allowed to pay his taxes on May 30. He dismissed Lundberg's theory that there would be a rush of people coming in.

Alex Salfi, supporting McGee's stand on the issue, said, "We have to get our front office in place."

In her comment Saunders said, "If he came into pay and we didn't accept, the responsibility falls on the town."

During his final comments on the matter, Miner said, "It defeats the whole purpose that's in place. I disagree. We're making a mistake."

The vote on the issue was deadlocked at 2-2 with Saunders breaking the tie. Her vote which supported the stand taken by McGee and Salfi, ended up saving the Schwandts $326.

Chamber no longer able to handle town float

The controversial float issue is back in the hands of town council.

Council was informed last Thursday that due to financial constraints, the chamber is no longer able to look after the float.

In a letter to council, the chamber says that if the town wants a float fully capable of touring the province on the town's behalf, another $3,000 to $5,000 is needed to permanently mount it on a trailer.

Chamber president Grant Mossour says his group simply doesn't have the money.

Still with the chamber, the town is looking into the cost of printing more town brochures.

The chamber's tourist committee had 3000 brochures printed this year, but say they only have about 200 left. Close to 800 of the brochures were sent to the Battle River Tourist Association for distribution in their visitor information booths.

Deputy mayor Jean Saunders, who also sits on the chamber tourist committee and the tourist action plan suggested that another pamphlet be printed, that could be sent to out-of-town groups.

Two councillors, Alex Salfi and Dave Lundberg expressed their concerns over the chamber's actions in regards to the float and to their request to have the town pay for the reprinting costs of more brochures.

Both of them supported a meeting between the two groups. "One doesn't know what the other is doing," Salfi stated in council chambers last week.

Mossour says he doesn't have any trouble with such a meeting. He says the last time the chamber met with the town was back in April. "Regular meetings with the town are okay. It keeps us abreast of what the others doing," he added.

Landscape contract awarded

Town council has awarded a $100,000 landscaping contract for the Northview subdivision to O'Brien Contracting Ltd.

The contract is all part of a $377,723 budget council okayed in October 1987.

So far $268,000 has been spent on the project. This includes $202,000 for paving, sidewalks and pathways; $36,000 for power services and street lights; $25,000 for engineering (projected cost) and $5,000 for survey and testing.

Included in the contract awarded to O'Brien Contracting Ltd. is $91,734 for trees and $11,000 for a fountain in the Northview retention pond.

Looking good

The sun will continue to shine this week.

According to the Edmonton weather office we can expect a high of 30C with some afternoon cloud and an overnight low of 10C for today (Tuesday).

For Wednesday the forecasters are calling for a high of 30C and a low of 5C.

It will also be mainly sunny both Thursday and Friday with a high of 24C on Thursday and 21C Friday. Overnight lows will dip to 0C.

Local News Briefs

The chamber of commerce wants to evaluate the aspects of a railway for Drayton Valley before making any commitment.

The town reports they have 19 lots left for sale in the Northview subdivision.

Contractors who demolished Mike's Food Store say they haven't received any word from 7-Eleven on removing the last of the concrete pads.

The chamber will continue with their annual citizen-of-the-year award in December, and also plans to go ahead with a farm family award.

One of the most sought-after items in Drayton Valley these days are boxes. With all the transfers due to the Amoco/Dome merger, coupled with the usual moves, such outlets as the liquor store, are seeing an unusual demand for boxes.

A Canada Post official has hinted they are looking at establishing another sub post office in Drayton Valley. The only sub post office is presently located at Value Drug, Penny's Drug Mart in the Dodson Mall, had expressed some interest in this year.

Some residents living in the area of the proposed 7-Eleven convenience store have expressed their concern to the town over the pending noise. One home owner says he has been told a fence will be erected.

The owner of 10 country residential lots north of the golf course has been given the okay to proceed with a long-awaited development.

S&K Shell Sales has asked the town to provide a highway access into the new access across Highway 22 (across from the Shell bulk station) to accommodate a service station.

Special youngster to lead Fox Run

By Michael McQuillan

Six-year-old Jared Fraser.

Other than the fact that six-year-old Jared Fraser has cancer he is like every other little boy entering his first year of school.

On Sept. 18 Jared will be very special to Drayton Valley as he leads participants in this year's Terry Fox Run.

Organiser for the event, Pam Schaub, feels Jared possesses the kind of courage and determination that made Terry Fox a national hero.

Jared was diagnosed as having an extremely rare cancer-related disease called histiocytosis when he was three-and-a-half years old. Since that time he has undergone countless cancer treatments (chemotherapy), often leaving him sick for days.

Histiocytosis affects Jared's bones. The disease eats through bone tissue much like rust eats through metal, says Dallas Fraser, Jared's father. Dallas says the disease is so rare very little money is spent on research.

Originally Jared received chemotherapy once a month. Because the disease has not been arrested he goes through the painful therapy every two weeks.

He receives treatment at the Cross Cancer Institute at the University of Alberta in Edmonton. There are anywhere from a dozen to two dozen other children awaiting therapy, says Dallas.

"They're so tiny and so innocent, you wonder why little things like that have to suffer so much," says Dallas. "They go through more in their short lifetime than most adults could comprehend," he adds.

Jared's and other children's fights with cancer have made the Fraser's view life in a different light. "You tend to concentrate more on life itself and living as opposed to the other things that aren't that important," notes Dallas.

The Fraser's feel the memory of Terry Fox is special to Canadians. "He brought an awareness to everyone that cancer really isn't all that far away from any family," says Dallas. "I don't think there's anyone that I know that hasn't been touched by it somehow," says Irene.

Transportation committee to review proposal

Two major oil companies want to install a precision approach path indicator at the Drayton Valley airport.

The overall cost of the hardware valued at $16,000 plus installation and maintenance, will be shared by two of the airport's major users, Mobil Oil and Amoco.

However, the idea ran into a couple of road blocks at last Thursday's town council meeting.

Councillor Dave Lundberg questioned the town's liability insurance while both Alex Salfi and Charlie Mieser wanted it forwarded to the transportation committee for their review.

"It's meaningless to send it to committee," Councillor Tom McGee stated while town manager Manny Deal said he didn't see any insurance problems.

However, a motion of 4-1 sent it to the transportation committee for their recommendations.

MD plans inventory before ordering trucks

The Municipal District of Brazeau plans to do an inventory of their equipment before ordering a new truck for their director of public works.

"We seem to have quite a list of vehicles," Reeve Henry Rondeau told last Thursday's council meeting.

Rondeau suggested the inventory and to get rid of what equipment the MD didn't need.

Richard Tatro, the new director of public works suggested a truck after spending a couple of days last week inspecting some of the road projects. "Some places I've been have been reasonably rough," he told council.

Tatro plans to do the inventory and get quotes on a new vehicle in time for the next council meeting.

New public works director Richard Tatro.

Public works director joins MD of Brazeau

The challenge of joining a brand new municipality is what attracted Richard Tatro to the Municipal District of Brazeau.

The native of North Battleford who grew up in Calgary joined the MD staff last Monday as their new director of public works.

He joins the MD after working for the town of Besomont for the past eight years as manager of operations and director of engineering. Before that Tatro spent two years with the city of Wetaskiwin.

Tatro took a two-year civil engineering course at SAIT. "It's pretty unique to be able to join a new municipality," Tatro said of his decision to look at the Drayton Valley job.

The newcomer to Drayton Valley is married and has three children.

Tatro's department is busy these days with a major graveling program that will extend until the middle of September and see about 100 miles of road gravelled. Another crew has been busy building a new road.

Double trouble

Clint Brisabola, 7, gets a two-wheeled lift from his friend Lyle Thorsen, 13. The pair were peddling on their way to the pool for an afternoon of swimming lessons.

Municipal news

The appointment of two members to the agricultural service board has been delayed pending the receipt of another nominee.

So far W.J. Fleisher, who lives east of Breton, Bill Urchysyn and Peter Kwanayia have been nominated.

When the appointments are made, one member will come from each side of the river.

Council decided at last Thursday's meeting not to charge the Rocky Rapids Vet clinic any installation fee for water and sewer when they move into new quarters west of their present building. As Reeve Henry Roudsac explained, the services are already there (in an existing house).

The MD hopes that renovations to the old County Police offices that will be used as an administration centre will cost less than $20,000.

Negotiations are expected to get underway shortly with the County of Leduc and ID 16 over the division of assets.

Plans are only in the talking stages for a logo contest.

A decision has been made to add an accountant and director of administration to the work force due to the tremendous work load some of the staff are faced with. A number of secretaries will also be added.

Chambers want clout

Chambers of commerce in the area want more clout.

As a result, the chambers are hoping to form a new group. It will be known as the West Central Alberta Chambers.

Grant Monsour, president of the Drayton Valley chamber, attended an organizational meeting recently in Whitecourt.

"We plan to look at pertinent issues and go to the government with some clout," Monsour told The Western Review.

Representatives from Hinton, Edson and Swan Hills joined Drayton Valley and Whitecourt at the first meeting.

"We're in the process of surveying area communities to see who wants to participate," Monsour added.

Two issues the chambers are already looking into include the forestry herbicide policy and changing the chambers status from a profit making organization to non-profit. Monsour says some of the chambers are pushing for this change so they can organize fund-raising ventures such as lotteries, bingo and casinos.

Cable adds channels

Town council was brought up to date on QCTV's proposed channel changes during last Thursday's regular meeting.

Brad Trumble, director of customer operators enlightened council about their Oct. 1 switch to Spokane and Detroit channels. "It's the way we used to be," he told council.

Council also learned that two new channels would be added. These include the family channel that will include 60 per cent Disney shows and a children's channel.

Councillor Dave Lundberg questioned Trumble about the possibility of improving the signal from Red Deer.

"TransAlta has surrounded the town by lines and that's basically affecting our signal," the QCTV representative stated.

"It's a bit frustrating. We're not blaming TransAlta. They're one of the players in the game," Trumble replied.

No mention was made on local programming on the QCTV community channel.

Statements available

Are you interested in looking at the financial statement for the Drayton Valley Developmentally Handicapped Association?

If you're a member, it's now available for your viewing at the Beehive Workshop. However, copies of the statement are not available.

Association president Garry Lorenz stresses that it's only available to members.

In other association news, Lorenz says no decision has been made on replacing Tom Turner on the executive. Turner has been transferred by the RCMP to Red-water.

We have front row seats for political battle

There appears to be a storm brewing in the Yellowhead riding.

The toe-to-toe confrontation between incumbent Joe Clark and the new kid on the block, Preston Manning, could quite conceivably turn this riding into one of the country's political hotbeds.

And for Drayton Valley and area residents, that should mean a front row seat.

Manning has indicated he is serious about upsetting Clark in Yellowhead. He's been in Drayton Valley three times in the last month and his first major meeting attracted 98 people. A reported 45 memberships were sold at that meeting.

Clark, because of his duties as external affairs minister, doesn't get home that often.

But because of the apparent battle shaping up, Clark might want to devise a new plan of attack.

Part of Manning's platform is better representation in Ottawa. And that alone seems to have won over a lot of disenfranchised voters.

Manning landed the first blow in this much anticipated battle when he told the Drayton Valley meeting, "I don't like the way he (Clark) represents western interests."

One thing that was obvious from Manning's visit is the intense interest in such international topics as free trade. Manning fielded a lot of good questions during his visit.

And Clark is likely to get the same kind of questioning.

Because of the pending battle, the voters should also be the winners as the two combatants will want to speak to the voters, instead of wasting time main-streetsing and talking to school groups.

Time to start asking questions about our tax money

You're undoubtedly tired of hearing about the lack of funding for the new arena, the fact that the town is fronting the cost and that it will only consist of 440 seats.

And a lot of people could care less if the town has scrapped plans for an outdoor rink.

While the new arena in West Valley Park along with the work on the town's administration complex continues, very quietly and out of the way in the northeast corner of town, the town is spending a lot of money.

The centre of most of the town's funding seems to be in the general area of the Northview subdivision.

An eight-foot paved trail has been installed around the retention pond and a similar path leads up through the row of impressive new homes past what will eventually be a park. Included in that park is a very small hill, that some of us have been after the County of Parkland or the town to construct for several years. The hill could have easily been twice the size.

Frankly Speaking

By Frank Ryan

All this trail system will eventually lead into the town's 43 Street drainage program.

We've asked for the price tag but were told it's forthcoming.

In view of all the money that is obviously being spent in the northeast corner of town, something could be scraped together for an outdoor rink. Minor hockey is very upset with the town's decision not to proceed with the facility. They had indicated using it at least 22 hours a week.

A snowbank rink in place of an outdoor rink, complete with boards, next to the new arena, will be a complete waste of money.

The question has been asked by minor hockey, (and I'll add my two bits), what happened to the boards from the old outdoor rink that used to be by the H.W. Pickup school? Were they scrapped because someone knew we'd never have another outdoor rink?

We find that people don't ask a lot of questions about where their tax money is being spent. Maybe it's about time.

Low income funding available

Help is available locally through the Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program (RRAP).

Mary Poloway, the program consultant in Drayton Valley, is now accepting inquiries about the program. She can be reached at 542-5875 in the morning or at the town office between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.

RRAP is a home improvement program for low income families. The amount of the funding available is based on income.

Assistance is being offered to the homeowner, landlords and disabled.

If you are a low income homeowner and your house needs major repairs, you may qualify for financial assistance to fix it up.

If your rental housing needs major repairs, you may qualify for financial assistance to cover the cost.

And, funds are available to help make dwellings more accessible for disabled occupants.

The assistance is provided by Canada Mortgage and Housing on behalf of the federal government.

The program was involved with the extension to the senior citizens' Drop-In Centre.

Since being first introduced in Drayton Valley in 1979, the program has financed 175 projects totalling a quarter of a million dollars.

Twins take a toll on parents

By Michael McQuillan

The odds of a mother giving birth to twins are about 1 in 250.

Some would consider that one mother to be unlucky but a local mother of twin baby girls thinks she's blessed.

Karen Martin, of Drayton Valley, is the mother of 17-month-old baby girls. She wants to form a twins and triplets club. Martin says the club would offer parents of multiples the much needed support they require.

Support is required because of the special situations parents go through raising their twins or triplets, says Martin. "It's a very unique situation you're having to deal with and it helps to know someone who's been through it that you can talk to."

Martin felt there was need for a local organization so parents wouldn't have to travel to Edmonton, where they have a twins and triplets club. She says there are eight sets of twins in Drayton Valley she can confirm but expects there could be between 10 and 15.

To date Martin has found five stores locally that will offer club members a discount and believes others will follow. She says the organization could help parents of new-born multiples with baby-sitting and preparing meals for overworked parents.

She believes it's important for parents to be counselled on the upbringing of twins and triplets. "It's natural for most people to raise (the multiples) as a set and not individuals," she says. Martin says it's important that each child be encouraged to develop their own identity.

The local club will be registering members Sept. 6 at the Drayton Valley recreation department registration night. Martin hopes the first meeting will be held Sept. 21.

Flower shop owner nominated for award

Valley House of Flowers has been nominated by the local chamber for an Alberta small business owner award. An announcement on the winners is expected during Small Business Week in late October.

The chamber nomination says in part, "Judy O'Connell has been instrumental in bringing Drayton Valley's stagnant chamber of commerce and retail merchants association back to life. After a number of years caring for four children, Judy turned to arranging flowers as a hobby. Out of a part time job at Valley House of Flowers, her career blossomed. And now, she is a successful owner of two small businesses and a valuable asset to the business community of Drayton Valley."

Town contract goes outside

A Spruce Grove firm has received a $30,000 fencing contract from the town.

Lynx Brand Fence Products was awarded the $30,182 contract during last Thursday's town council meeting.

The chain link fencing is for the sewage treatment facility expansion.

Bids for the project were extremely close. The price submitted by Phoenix Fence (1988) Ltd., the only other bidder, was $30,476.

New Sears building

The walls are up and the roof was being installed late last week on the 3000-square-foot Sears building on the lot east of the post office.

Minor hockey meets

The Drayton Valley Minor Hockey Association will hold their general meeting Sept. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the Scout Hall. Registrations will be accepted following the meeting. Parents are asked to bring a copy of their child's birth certificate, legal land description or street address. Anyone interested in coaching is urged to attend.

Herbicide fight

The towns of Drayton Valley and Wallaceport are joining forces to fight the herbicide policy.

A resolution is scheduled to go before the annual AUMA convention asking the Alberta government to adopt a herbicide policy that would allow the forest industry to apply approved herbicides to specific reforestation areas.

Town manager Manny Ducl told council he had talked to Pelican Spruce Mills and they support the idea.

A group of chambers from the area, including Whitecourt and Drayton Valley, are also taking a similar stand.

Koolers capture the 'big one' in slow-pitch

By Frank Ryan

Bob Brown's first inning three-run homer helped the Koolers to a 6-1 win over the Family Ties and the slow-pitch 'A' division title Sunday afternoon.

The Koolers went undefeated during the weekend, winning three games during round-robin action Friday and Saturday and brought the curtain down on the season in style with three playoff victories Sunday.

They added a single in the second and two more in the fourth for their win over the Family Ties. The losers' only run came in the third.

The Koolers downed the Kar Kings and the RCMP en route to the final.

The Family Ties followed much the same route as they headed into the final undefeated in five games.

The Oldtimers captured the 'B' division title with a 7-1 win over Whitby, the Mixed Nuts edged Esao 11-9 in the 'C' final and the Texaco All-Stars downed Tri-Chad 23-9 in the 'D' final.

There was some excellent ball played during the weekend. One such game was the 'A' division semi-final between Family Ties and the Pink Flamingoes. It went an extra inning before Family Ties recorded a dramatic 7-6 win.

Family Ties held a 6-3 lead with two out and the bases loaded in the top of the fifth. That's when Dyan Eckert lifted a fly over everyone's head into right field clearing the bases and knotting the score.

In the bottom of the eighth Joan Kelly kept the Family Ties' hopes alive with a slow roller up the third base line. While she raced to first, an alert Barb Gabrielson, who stood on second, advanced to third. When she didn't see anyone covering home, she raced in with the winning run.

"I didn't see anyone at home plate so I went for it," Gabrielson said after a single got her on, and she narrowly missed being out in a close play at second.

Danny Thompson, Family Ties' pitcher, was injured in the fourth inning. While running to second on a force play, the ball struck his hand. Thompson had put the hand up to protect his face as the shortstop touched the bag and attempted to get the double play at first.

He completed the game, then went to hospital. The news wasn't good. Thompson suffered multiple fractures to the little finger on his left hand. He had a date at the University of Alberta hospital in Edmonton yesterday (Monday) morning where he was scheduled for plastic surgery.

Joan Anderson, Family

Ties' captain, said Brown's first inning homer didn't help their cause. She felt Family Ties should've been up a little more, especially after their dramatic semi-final win.

League president Marty Prentice was on hand following the first game to present the Koolers with the championship trophy.

Matt Hunter with 80 cc motocross bike.

Motocross pushes rider to reach faster limits

By Michael McQuillan

Matt Hunter of Drayton Valley got his initiation into motocross racing the hard way.

More than three years ago he was mistakenly entered with the expert class in his first race. "It was fairly hectic," says Hunter of his indoctrination into the fast-paced world of motorcycle racing.

Hunter, now 15 years old, didn't mind the first race experience. "I think you learn faster by being beat by faster riders," says the young rider.

Racing against tough competition has paid off as last year he won the Junior Provincial Championships. The success prompted Hunter to move up to the expert class where his first season has resulted in less rewards.

Because of mechanical problems Hunter has had to drop out of six of the nine races entered this year. "It's frustrating, especially after driving all the way to a race," he says.

Mechanical problems were not an issue this weekend as Hunter raced to a third-place finish overall at the Camrose Supercross on Sunday. Two thirds and a sixth garnered a trophy for the local rider.

Strong arms and legs and excellent cardio-vascular conditioning are important for winning races, says Hunter. Because of this he spends a lot of time cycling and training with weights. He also trains a lot riding his bike. "It's important to really know your bike," he says.

Hunter feels the most important ingredient for a motocross racer is a winning attitude. "It's mostly mental and not physical," says Hunter. "You have to want to win before you can win."

He also admits the help he receives from his father is essential. "I couldn't do anything without his help," he says. A great deal of time is spent gutting to each race, says Hunter. He estimates the expense for each weekend race runs as high as $200.

The young racer says he will compete in two more races before the season ends. Edmonton hosts a motocross Sept. 11 and Fort Saskatchewan the following weekend. "If my bike's still in one piece I should be racing," he says.

Ball over

Marty Prentice couldn't have been happier.

After numerous games were rained out late in the season, the president of the Drayton Valley Slow-Pitch League witnessed excellent weather for their wrap-up tournament on the weekend.

"It was quite successful," Prentice stated in describing the past season.

Besides the weather, some games had to be called off due to a player shortage, but over all Prentice was happy the way the four-month season went.

As far as the competition went Prentice felt the 'A' division was the most competitive with the other three divisions out for fun and good sportsmanship.

Now that the league has a full season under their belt, they plan to ask the town about improving some of the school fields.

Prentice feels the town could have done a little bit more in the way of improving the diamonds. In light of the $2,800 the league paid in user fees.

The year-end tournament attracted 31 league teams.

Minor hockey gets slash from town council

The Drayton Valley Minor Hockey Association president is unhappy with the town's plans to scrap an adequate outdoor ice facility.

President Lanny Schultz accompanied by Kevin Hines appeared before town council last Thursday to express their concerns over the town's recent decision to scrap the original outdoor rink concept. Instead of a rink with pucks, boards, the town still plans to build a snowbank rink on the east side of the new arena in West Valley Park.

Schultz told council it was his understanding that $50,000 had just been turned over to the town from the Community Centre Society

He wanted to know if any of that could be used on an outdoor rink.

Acting mayor Jean Saunders told the minor hockey president that the $50,000 was not available. The funds were part of the $200,000 the Community Centre Society pledged toward the new arena.

But, Schultz said it was his understanding some of that $50,000 was earmarked for a second arena.

Schultz also told council he felt the $20,000 they had budgeted for the outdoor rink was too much.

"I feel we're being stabbed in the back," the minor hockey president said in reference to not getting the much needed outdoor rink. He asked council, if volunteer work will help, are you prepared to help?

Veteran councillor Charlie Miner, making it quite clear that the comments he was about to make were his own and not the opinion of council said the town made it quite clear they were only looking at one arena. He said talk of two ice surfaces was something that originated in the public.

He also told the minor hockey delegation that their original budget for the new arena was $1.1 million. That has climbed to $1.4 million. That's the reason the cuts were made," Miner stated. "We simply don't have the funds," Miner concluded. The request will be discussed further at the Aug. 31 building committee meeting and the Sept. 6 minor hockey meeting.

Clayton Hines collected top money at the High Prairie rodeo and settled for fourth at Stettler. The Drayton Valley area saddle bronc rider collected a total of $1,106 at the two shows.

As of Aug. 8, the Canadian Professional Rodeo Association standings showed Hines leading the way with earnings of $20,852. Mel Coleman of Lloydminster was second with $13,584 and Guy Shapka of Spruce View held down third spot with $12,135.

In the Coors Chute Out, Hines and Rimbey's John Smith were tied for the lead with 177 1/2 points.

Skinner caps summer with silver

Clayton Skinner with his hard-earned silver medal.

By Michael McQuillan
Fifteen year-old Clayton Skinner spent most of his summer working for a piece of metal.

The local youth recently came home from the Western Canadian summer games with a silver medal earned playing for the Alberta midget B volleyball team.

For Skinner and others on the team many months were spent preparing for the games, which were won by the Alberta A team. The team spent time training in Edmonton and Wetaskwin before heading to Prince Albert, Sask. for the volleyball championships.

Coaching played a major part in the success of the two Alberta teams, says Skinner. He says the B side had the best winning record in the tournament, which included a win over the Alberta A side in the round-robin play.

Skinner, who has one year left in the midget age group, says playing with the provincial team taught him a great deal about strategy and increased his skills. He hopes to apply his volleyball knowledge this fall as a player for Frank Maddock high school.

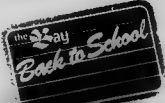

Sekura wins

Drayton Valley's Travis Sekura placed first in saddle bronc at the Weyburn rodeo and fourth at Minnedosa, Man recently. He's seventh in the overall Canadian Cowboys' Association saddle bronc standings.

Duck club meets

Doug Messaros would like to start a Ducks Unlimited in Drayton Valley. The Pelican Spruce Mills employee hopes to call an organizational meeting the first week in September. At that meeting, a video presentation on Ducks Unlimited will be presented and plans for a fall supper will be discussed.

Messaros was involved with Ducks Unlimited in Hudson Bay, Sask. and helped organize the group in Edson being coming here.

"I've had decent response around here. In a place like Drayton Valley we should be able to get enough interest from the fishermen and hunters," he said.

Fred Kreuser, the local fish and wildlife officer also believes Ducks Unlimited could make a go here. "I have confidence it will go here," Messaros told The Western Review.

The Drayton Valley gymnastics club operates with the intent to promote and develop the activity of gymnastics in our community and surrounding areas.

About 220 children, aged five to 16 years, participate annually in the programs offered by the club.

The next session will run mid-September to December.

Classes are held once a week in the building directly behind H.W. Pickup school.

Gymnastics provides the ideal fitness activity for children. The Drayton Valley club offers programs for pre-schoolers as well as recreational gymnastics. Various other programs may become available depending on demand.

Rhythmic gymnastics is a definite possibility for this fall. It involves a lot less tumbling and may be the answer for those children who want to participate but find the basic program too physically demanding. A pre-competitive group will also be started this year.

Registration for the fall gymnastic session will be held Sept. 8 at Frank Maddock high school in conjunction with the town's recreation department registration night.

Ides of Life

By Frank Pavlik
Canada's Sports Poet
I have a workaholic friend,
I know, we all have one,
Can't take the time to go play golf,
There's too much to be done.

I got 2 baseball tickets, free,
The same guy couldn't go,
He said, "Id LOVE to but I can't,
The much to do, y'know."

To football? He's a record stuch,
"I'm sorry, not tonight,
Maybe I'll get a chance to go,
When things are going right."

Old friend of mine of little fun,
Take heed of what I've said,
The work will still be pisin' up,
Long after you are dead.

Of course, we all have things to do,
And we must do our share,
But OVERdoing anything,
Is something to beware.

Local hockey buffs to play international

For many Canadian hockey players the prospect of playing international hockey is a fantasy.

Two Drayton Valley athletes will live their fantasy when they play for Team Western against Scandinavian hockey clubs this spring. Jason Polk, 26, and Bruce Reszewski, 30, will join 18 other recreational league players on the Canadian team for five games in 11 days. For both the local athletes the international hockey experience will be a dream come true.

"I've always had this dream about playing international hockey and I really want to see how these (European) play," says Reszewski. "If you've played hockey you always want to see what the other players are doing in Europe," adds Polk.

Both Reszewski and Polk, who work in the oil and gas industry, play in the Drayton Valley recreational hockey league. The pair will have to pay the travel expenses of the European tour but feel the price tag is well worth it.

"It's going to be kind of exciting," says Reszewski. "It's going to be like a holiday when we go over, spiced up with a few hockey games," adds Polk.

Martins and Smiths top names in book

The Martins and Smiths share the most popular name derby in Drayton Valley's new phone directory.

The 536-page AGT book distributed recently shows both the Martins and Smiths with 24 listings. Just two back were the Andersons.

Third place belongs to the Hutchinsons with 18 followed by the Thompsons with 17. Brown, Johnson and Nelson with 14 each, Jones, Erickson and Olson with 12.

The human services guide lists Calvin Bannister as the town's recreation director. He left Drayton Valley last year. Paul Nielsen occupies that position at the present time.

Please replace your divots

By Mike Townley
CPGA Professional
Drayton Valley Golf Club
I missed last week's column as I was playing a couple of tournaments. Labetti's Pro Team in Calgary and the Canadian Club Professional Championship in Vancouver.

I would like to thank my playing partners, John Saffrin Jr., Brian Hansen and Dave Shuchinski for a very enjoyable day at Silver Springs Golf and Country Club.

The Labetti's Pro Team is always a lot of fun to play. I look forward to next year's event and hope we can improve on our middle-of-the-pack finish.

The Canadian Club Professional tourney was a delightful experience as this was my first major tournament in a couple of years.

The Capilano Golf Club was a real treat to play. I played well for the first three rounds but fatigue took its toll in the fourth round, after playing six days in succession I will play the Alberta PGA this Thursday and Friday to wind up tournament playing for this year. Curling season must be just around the corner.

September promises to be a busy month for tournaments at the Drayton Valley golf course. There are five tournaments scheduled. Call 542-3602 for entry deadlines and information.

Tip of the week
Etiquette is something that is all too often taken for granted.

Everyone on the course expects the other player to be concerned with etiquette while we often forget about it ourselves. Anyone who has ever landed in an unraked trap knows what I'm talking about.

It only takes a few seconds to replace a divot or repair a ballmark, yet a ballmark left for any length of time will take up to two weeks to completely heal and a divot even longer.

Please: everyone take a little time to do your part and keep Drayton Valley golf course the best in the area.

Ellises dominate fair

By Rhell Carson
Congratulations to Lucille Jackson who recently received a framed certificate of merit for 27 years of recording weather information for the Astromorphic Environment Service of Canada.

Ray and Janet Ellis took the sheep team to Camrose Aug. 5 where he won second in the novelty class in the parade. There were 100 entries overall in the parade. David, Diane and Dwight Ellis took Ray and Janet (who were celebrating their anniversary), Lily Gladstone (celebrating her birthday) and May Hawrylyk to Camrose for the Wilf Carter show Aug. 7.

Ray Ellis entered 40 exhibits in the Winfield fair. He even tried his hand at baking. Ray came home with 18 firsts, 16 seconds and one third, as well as five first rosettes, three blue and one white rosette. He also received a mug for tops in the grain class.

Janet Ellis had 87 entries in the fair and received 39 firsts, 37 seconds and nine thirds, along with two third-place rosettes and a crystal bowl for the best toy in the fair. She was also presented with the aggregate plaque for the most points in the adult division.

There will be a bridal shower for Kim Hinds and Mark Seredinsk at the Funnell Centre Sept. 11 at 2 p.m. Ladies please bring lunch.

The regular meeting of the Funnell Society will be held Sept. 12 at 8 p.m.

Shop Locally

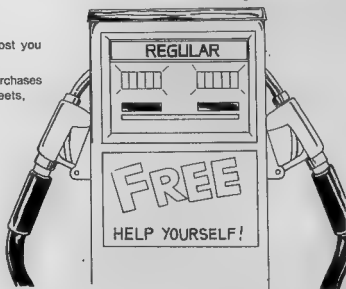

SHOPPING OUT OF TOWN COSTS MORE THAN THE EXTRA GAS

Even if gas were free, it would still cost you extra money to shop away from home.

Certainly you know that part of your purchases away from home go to support their streets, parks, fire and police protection, etc.

Your friendly merchants at home probably had just what you wanted...and often cheaper than big city stores.

Adding the cost of gas to your out of town purchase is just one of the additives to the expense of shopping out of town. Save both time and money....support your hometown merchants.

Kids and cars - a dangerous mix

There are about 250,000 elementary school students in the province, and the Alberta Motor Association's School Safety Patrol wants every one of them back in class safely for the new school year.

"Bring 'Em Back Alive!," The AMA's safety campaign slogan, takes on added meaning for the patrol's 13,000 members - most of whom are in grades 5 and 6 - with only one long weekend left this summer. They're preparing to do their part to make the start of the new school year safe.

They have some tips for motorists:

- Be extra alert. Youngsters excited about seeing new teachers and old friends may forget their safety rules.

Watch for children darting out from between parked cars.

- Observe reduced speed limits in school zones.

- Drive children to school only when absolutely necessary. Increased traffic contributes to unsafe congestion in school zones.

- Stop for school buses where required.

Labor Day is Monday, Sept. 5. For this summer's fourth and final long weekend, the AMA will again provide motorists with holiday weekend highway reports on a network of radio stations around the province.

In addition, the auto club's courtesy road patrol will give free assistance to any stranded motorist encountered on major routes into and out of Calgary and Edmonton throughout the weekend. These services are all part of the Bring 'Em Back Alive! safety campaign.

Woodrow new president of tourist association

The Battle River Tourist Association has approved a 10 per cent membership hike for next year.

At an association meeting recently in Wetaskiwin, Bryce Woodrow was re-elected president.

The tourist association is already working on a new golf brochure for 1989 that will include all the courses in the Battle River region.

The group's annual meeting will be held Oct. 22 in Camrose. Don Sparrow, minister of tourism will be the guest speaker.

Grain harvest down

A crop survey conducted Aug. 10 to 12 by United Grain Growers shows Prairie farmers will harvest only 31.7 tonnes of grain in 1988, down 31 per cent from last year's 46 million tonnes.

Continued searing heat dropped the output 1.1 million tonnes from UGG's July projections, the report released recently stated.

"The figure could drop further when the final harvest figures are in," said Ron Sims, a researcher with UGG's Farm Decision Resources.

Hardest hit is Saskatchewan with a projected drop in grain output of 48 per cent from last year. Normally, Saskatchewan produces about half the Prairie grain crop.

UGG estimates Manitoba's production will be down 30 per cent and Alberta's nine per cent from 1987.

Wheat output is the hardest hit, since most of it is grown in Saskatchewan. UGG estimates the 1988 red spring wheat crop will be only 12.3 million tonnes and durum output 2.1 million tonnes.

Rockies great cycling

An open road, an untamed river, a lofty summit, and a seeming lake - all await you in Alberta.

A land of adventure and intrigue, Alberta's wilderness calls to the outdoors-lover. Seemingly untouched, Alberta will leave an unforgettable impression of natural majesty. Whatever your adventure is, Alberta stands ready to fulfill it.

Experience isn't necessary - only the zest for adventure. For information on tour agencies and attractions, call Travel Alberta.

Alberta's Rocky Mountain highways offer some of the best bicycle touring in North America. Smooth roads with safe, wide shoulders follow wild rivers and traverse subalpine passes. Some tours will challenge even the most energetic souls, while others are casual enough for beginners and novices.

What's better than having someone else handle all the details on your biking odyssey. Tour groups handle all the meals, accommodation and guide service along the route. A support vehicle will carry your gear and give you a lift if you tire. What's left is the joy of the open road and the splendor of Alberta's mountain paradise.

Thieves take tack

CRIME STOPPERS 1-800-922-TIPS

Between June 26 and July 3, horse tack and a large amount of tools were stolen from a farm yard four miles southwest of Drayton Valley.

The horse tack consisted of a western rawhide, tan-colored saddle, double rigged, tapaderos on stirrups with small, silver-colored studs on the saddle edge, and one home-made bridle.

Tools stolen range from racquet sets, belt sander, power drills, chain saws, grinders, jig saw, jack-hills, to a Honda lighting plant. Full list of stolen items are available at the RCMP office.

Crimestoppers will pay a cash reward for information leading to the arrest of any of the persons responsible for this offence. If you have information on this or any other criminal offence, call Crimestoppers, toll-free, at 1-800-922-TIPS (922-8477). You do not have to reveal your identity and if your information leads to an arrest, you qualify for a reward.

Krystal Mason catches some indoor rays.

Garbage grants awarded

Improvements to the garbage dumps at Cynthia and Lodgepole are just around the corner.

The Drayton Valley Landfill Authority has received approval of a $170,000 grant to provide transfer stations at these two locations.

Negotiations are expected to start shortly on acquiring land for the two sites.

Meanwhile, the communities of Breton and Warburg are having their garbage trucks into the major landfill in Drayton Valley.

The Alberta government plans on introducing new regulations for tanning salons.

The new regulations will be covered under the Radiation Protection Act and will likely require operators to check each client's skin activity to the ultraviolet tanning rays, while warning them of the potential risks of indoor tanning. Protective eye wear will also be mandatory for users.

The regulations came after the industry has experienced a boom in the number of operators and customers. In the past some customers have experienced burns from the tanning beds.

Drayton Valley currently has four companies in town with tanning beds. None of the operators felt the regulations were unduly onerous and they all said they already abided by the regulations.

Feline leukemia virus in Drayton Valley

A feline leukemia virus infection which has been reducing the cat population has been reported in Drayton Valley.

An employee at the Drayton Valley veterinary hospital, south of the town limits on 50th Street, says while she hasn't heard of any cases in the past six months, some were reported previously.

It is one of the few viruses or communicable cancers which also occurs in poultry and livestock.

Dr. John Dugan, a veterinarian in Red Deer says the feline leukemia virus infection kills more cats than any other pathogen. Dugan estimates two or three cats test positive at his clinic each week.

Unknown until about 30 years ago, feline leukemia virus infection is now regarded as a leading cause of pet cat deaths. Cats persistently infected with FeLV rarely live more than three years, and most die of associated diseases before cancer develops.

A vaccine (Leukocell) is available to battle this disease and concerned cat owners can pick up a very informative brochure at the Drayton Valley veterinary hospital.

What's in a name?

Starting Thursday, Mohawk Propane will officially change its name to Premier Propane.

The change will also affect the Mohawk Propane outlet in Drayton Valley.

Ron McLaughlin, president and chief executive officer, believes the new name accurately reflects the attitude and style of the company and its people.

LABOUR DAY MESSAGE

Labour Day recognizes the efforts of working people everywhere. We in Alberta are committed to hard work in an environment of fairness and honesty. We embrace these principles in our efforts to keep Alberta prosperous and competitive in a challenging world-wide market.

Our Province's new Labour Code comes into effect this fall, the result of more than two years of extensive consultations, discussions and review, confirming the work of the Labour Legislation Review Committee.

Minimum standards for employment will be enhanced through the new Employment Standards Code, which sets out the minimum provisions that apply to all employees and employers including payment of wages, hours of work, holidays, overtime, vacations, parental benefits and minimum wage.

Free collective bargaining is supported through the new Labour Relations Code, which includes provisions on certification, the negotiating process, mediation, and the role of the Alberta Labour Relations Board.

These laws recognize the enormous advantage of open and honest communications, fairness and equal treatment. They are major steps in providing a balanced labour climate for all Albertans into the 21st Century. Moreover, the laws recognize that employees and employers are best able to manage their own affairs when their rights and responsibilities are clearly established and understood.

In the months ahead, through education and information programs, your Government will ensure that all Albertans are able to learn about their rights and responsibilities under these new laws.

On behalf of your Government,

I wish you all a safe and happy Labour Day holiday

Anniversary draws relatives from across Canada

By Joyce Schadeck
Shaw family reunion
 Aug. 13 and 14 saw 120 family and relatives of the Shaw and McGinn families gather to celebrate the 50th wedding anniversary of Velma (McGinn) and Jim McGinn.

The guest book shows 11 family members came from Los Angeles, California and others from Drayton Valley, Whitecourt, Stony Plain, Camrose, Lethbridge, Onaway, Red Deer, Calgary and Aunt Lydia Jenkins, 98, from Edmonton. Still others came from Fort St. John, Prince George, Langley and Qualicum Beach, B.C. and Whitehorse, Yukon; and a cousin from Eldorado, Ont.

Jim and Velma were married Dec. 6, 1938 and made their home in Tomahawk where they raised three children: Bob, Drayton Valley, Katherin (Clyde) Yager of Edmonton and Donna (Lloyd) Remus of Whitecourt.

Jim operated the B/A (later Griff) station in Tomahawk until its closure in 1979. During that time he was also the Massey Harris dealer with 10 consecutive years among the top 10 dealers. He was top dealer in Canada in 1962 and won trips to Toronto and Vancouver.

Jim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Shaw, came to Edmonton from Eldorado, Ont. in 1903 and moved to Tomahawk in 1905. They were married in her hometown, Tomahawk, Wisconsin and it was after this town that Tomahawk, Alberta was named. The McGinn family came to Tomahawk in 1911 from Edmonton, after selling their hotel.

Tomahawk library

The library located in the Tomahawk school, will be open 10:30 to 3:30 daily except weekends and holidays. Gloria Jowan is the librarian while Chris Worden is community librarian.

The library began in 1968 by Ellen Shaw, Alma Schadeck, Marion Jowan, Mr. O'Neill and Mr. Overbo in the basement of the school and has grown to a very impressive collection of books.

Affiliated with Yellowhead Book Exchange they receive government grants and also raise money through various fund-raising events.

On the occasion of the library's 30th birthday, helium-filled balloons were released. One has since been found in Beaumont and another in Craven, Sask.

Balloon release

Motley Davis, 17, representing 4-H clubs in the area, was releasing a number of balloons to commemorate the clubs' public awareness week. The balloons carried messages inside the balloons. Provincial 4-H clubs are hoping to recruit more members with their promotion.

Schools portable

The County of Parkland is planning to add two portables to the Eldorado school next year.

That decision doesn't sit well with Charlie Miner, a town councillor who has always voiced his concern over the increasing number of portables.

"I'm not happy with the situation," Miner says.

Miner is quick to realize that the need is often there before financing can be put in place.

The two problems Miner has included the upkeep of the portables and the fact that while they are temporary, they often become permanent.

"They look like hell, frankly," he stated.

Mary Tkachuk, superintendent of schools for the county says he is well aware of the town's concerns.

Stress - enemy of farmers

By Bev Brooks
District Home Economist
Are you frustrated when you're faced to town only to find that the part you desperately need is on back order?

Or when you hear prices are dropping as your line stand filled with last year's crop?

This frustration builds up and leads to tension and stress. Everybody experiences stress but how you decide to deal with it is what's important.

Farming has been labelled as one of the most stressful and dangerous occupations. Stress-related conditions like heart disease, high blood pressure and nervous disorders are more common in farmers than in any other occupation.

Experiencing stress increases the likelihood of farm accidents. If you're tired and your muscles ache you are not as alert as you could be. The physical dangers involved in farming also add to the stress load. Working around unsafe or dangerous equipment increases tension. A vicious circle begins with increased stress leading to an increase in farm accidents, in turn leading to more stress...and so on.

The fact that farm technology is constantly changing adds to your stress level, too! You have to be up-to-date with your knowledge and skills of farm management. There is extra pressure to keep informed about new technology.

When you experience stress you have the choice to respond to it in a positive or negative way. Recognizing the symptoms and causes of stress in your life will allow you to start managing stress successfully. Working under stress generally isn't harmful, if it is for a short period of time. Stress managed carefully can actually be a motivating factor. Carrying a heavy load for a long time however, or having to deal with many stressful events at one time, can be dangerous. Your body will react to the pressure by breaking down and your health therefore starts to suffer.

Learn to deal with stress in a positive way. For extra tips on recognizing stress contact me at Alberta Agriculture, 542-5368 and ask for the You and Stress kit. The self-learning package is available for loan free of charge.

Sarah Sibbons, 5

After attending Wee College last year, Sarah is looking forward to attending the Lutheran Church kindergarten. Something she really enjoyed at the Wee College were the snacks, especially the chocolate chip cookies. "Sometimes they even had babies over and put them in cribs," she explained. Her summer holidays included a trip to the mountains and Calaway Park.

Jeffrey Sibbons, 6

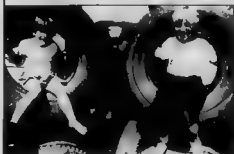

This youngster, who will enter Grade 2 at Eldorado, has enjoyed a busy summer. He went to Calaway Park, Drumheller, spent two days in the mountains and went to the water slide at Sylvan Lake. Despite all this, he's looking forward to school so he can play with all the kids.

Shawn Olson, 8

"I'm looking forward to school (Grade 1, Eldorado). One of the biggest things missing this summer was the friends he made in kindergarten last year.

"I'm looking forward to playing," says Jennifer. She will be attending the community kindergarten this year. She says she is looking forward to snack time. Her cousin, Bobbi, is a Grade 4 student from Lloydminster.

Jess Brinkley, 6

"I'm excited about going to school (Grade 1, Eldorado)." He misses his friends. It's been a busy summer for Jess as he has been to Sylvan Lake, rode bikes and played.

Tyler Brinkley, 9

The summer isn't long enough for this Evergreen Grade 4 student. His two-month vacation has included riding bikes and playing around. He also went to the water slide at Sylvan Lake.

'People have to make up their own mind'

The kids will be returning to the classroom shortly.

And Mary Poloway hopes those serious dieters will be returning to the scales.

Poloway is the Diet Centre representative in Drayton Valley.

After a relatively quiet summer, which is typical for dieters, Poloway is expecting business to pick up. "It should be getting busy soon. School's back in," she says.

Poloway, who has owned Diet Centre for the past four years, says it's that time of year when people usually get a little more serious about their weight. "They're thinking of Christmas. They want to lose a few pounds."

Losing weight has never been Poloway's problem.

"I didn't have a weight problem. But, I was always interested in nutrition. It was a natural for me," she says.

The Diet Centre is conveniently located in Poloway's home. "It's centrally located. It's handy for everyone," she explained.

The Diet Centre plan which has produced an average weight loss of three pounds per week, consists of four phases: conditioning, reducing, stabilization and maintenance.

It consists of a balanced diet and Poloway suggests that anyone planning on dieting, should get a doctor's check up first.

The Diet Centre has an impressive list of achievers, ranging from the usual 30 and 40 pounds all the way up to 100 pounds.

On the plan, dieters can weigh in six days a week, although other arrangements can be made.

One of the biggest reasons people diet is because of a pending reunion. Weddings is another followed by health concerns.

"People have to make up their own mind about dieting. We're here to help," Poloway says.

High-tech doesn't make tasty toast

By Samie Vallemand

You can spread it with butter, jam, jelly or marmalade - but whether you can enjoy that morning piece of toast really depends on how well the toaster has done its job.

A good toaster should be able to turn slices of ordinary bread into toast that is crisp but not dry, browned but not burned. Does an electronic unit make better toast than the traditional mechanical one? How many breakfasts can you expect from your toaster? Will it survive an accidental drop?

CAC's testing lab looked at 10 two-slice models, ranging in price from $18 to $50. They found that high-tech doesn't mean much when it comes to toast and that a plunge into a kitchen counter shouldn't do a toaster in.

Unless you are especially prone to burning yourself you will not need one of the cool-warm units now on the market. The two models tested did not provide good toast. All of the toasters had replaceable elements - anyone handy with small appliances should be able to do their own repairs.

Instead of shopping with a loaf of sliced bread under your arm to do your own testing, check the evaluation of performance given in the April 1988 edition of Canadian Consumer.

What makes a marriage strong?

By Shirley Cripps
MLA Drayton Valley

We're well into August now and the wedding season is winding down.

I wonder how many young people "tied the knot" this summer and how they approached their big day. Since last summer, when both my daughters got married, I have done a lot of ruminating on what makes a marriage strong and the ties that bind two people together - hopefully for a lifetime.

Last fall I wrote to couples in the constituency who I knew had celebrated their 50th or 60th wedding anniversaries and I asked them if they could tell me what they thought had made their marriages last and what advice they might have for those just starting out.

The responses I got were wonderful - interesting, thoughtful and inspiring; and during this wedding season I thought I would share some of their comments with you.

"...both parties should get to know one another, date for a lengthy period of time, rather than rush into a marriage, to realize that a wedding band does not change one's character or habit. I believe many girls think they can change their fiancé once they're married. Of course they only change a relationship in trying. Marriage vows should be taken more seriously."

"Hard work certainly kept us out of mischief working together and being determined to make a marriage work is probably the answer."

"It is what couples see in one another and don't ask for the impossible things."

"The key to a stable marriage for 50 years plus and most of all communication."

"Love between the two of us, our family and friends, giving, taking, sharing, and caring through both the good times and the bad, kept us together."

"If we look back over our life, we'll find it hard to realize that we have allowed so many small disappointments to worry us in such a big way. There is nothing so overwhelming that we cannot handle."

All the letters I received shared common themes working hard towards a common goal, sharing, accepting the bad times along with the good, and remembering your marriage vows. These are also my sentiments and I can vouch for the fact that you get from a marriage exactly what you put into it - the more you put into it, the greater the rewards.

My best wishes to all the newlyweds and my thanks to the not-so-newlyweds who took the time to share the secret of their success.

School board votes in favor of controversial texts

A controversial series of French language arts texts will continue to be used in the County of Parkland school system.

Board of education trustees decided at a recent meeting to continue to permit the use of the Quatrout series in the Grade 5 summer session program.

At the same time they endorsed the superintendent of school's decision to complete the series by making other provincially approved textbooks available for use in the classroom.

Cecil Dawkins of Drayton Valley was one of trustees who voted, after a lengthy debate, in favor of continued use of the Quatrout series.

A subsequent motion calling on Alberta Education Minister Nancy Bethowski to conduct another review of the series was approved unanimously.

The board will also ask for Alberta Education's reaction to the suggestion put forward by some trustees that an appeal process be implemented at the provincial department level to deal with the concerns of parents or others after texts and instructional materials have been approved for use in the schools.

Smiths adopt foster child

A special commitment has been made by members of our community.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Drayton Valley have become foster parents. Through Foster Parents Plan of Canada they have adopted little Santiago of Sierra Leone. The Smiths' small monthly contribution brings help to the foster child, his family and the community.

The objective is not dependency, but to help the family become independent and self-supporting, through programs of medical and dental care, vocational training, and counselling by social workers.

All programs are adapted to the needs of the people, and tend to be concentrated in rural areas where the whole community can benefit through the provision of wells, schools and much more. Education is stressed, and all school-age members of foster families are encouraged to attend school. Foster parents are advised annually of the family's progress and a regular exchange of letters builds a warm and meaningful relationship.

Through Foster Parents Plan, individuals, groups and families in Canada, Australia, Belgium, Japan, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom and the United States are currently assisting over 385,000 children in 24 countries in the Third World. Information on sponsoring a child through PLAN can be obtained by writing to 183 St. Clair Ave. West, Toronto, Ont. M4V 1P8 or calling, toll-free 1-800-265-7174.

Some people find whiplash a lucrative injury

The sudden 'hump' of being rear-ended is usually followed by a sore neck. A whiplash is a mechanism of injury, however it happens. It is not a medical description of the injury itself.

Unfortunately both the public and the legal profession have used the term to describe the damage caused by the rapid extension and flexion of the neck so much that it is part of the language. Some members of both groups find the injury to be very lucrative.

Along with low back pain, doctors often find treating whiplash-induced injury frustrating. In many cases objective or hard evidence of the amount of damage to neck muscles, ligaments, discs, and other soft tissue is difficult to obtain. X-rays will detect fractures of neck bones, making the injury more than a 'whiplash'.

Examination of the patient will disclose varying tenderness of the neck and nearby structures. There will be muscle spasm and resistance to movement of the head. Upper back pain is common as the muscles there contract in an attempt to splint the neck.

Treatment consists of pain and spasm relieving drugs, ice, heat, immobilization or exercise, physiotherapy, acupuncture, chiropractic and a variety of other things. All seem to work some of the time, but certain patients take a long time to get better.

Doctors dislike being cynical. They want to believe their patients, most of whom are honest about their symptoms. But when a patient is still complaining of severe neck pain/two years after a five mph bump from behind, suspicions arise.

These are increased when they are reinforced by letters from lawyers asking for ongoing reports about the patient's pain and suffering.

Letters they hope will be dramatic enough to make a splash in court, or result in hefty insurance settlements.

Doctors want to be fair to their patients, and are usually willing to go to bat for them if they have a case. Many feel they are being manipulated by their patient, who in turn is being guided by a lawyer.

It is a fact that many injured necks heal rapidly when treated with a green polyclinic medical jargon for a cash settlement.

Danyluk wins gold at Games

By Bernice Johanson

Alex Danyluk brought back a gold medal from the provincial Senior Games held at Vermilion Aug. 4, 5 and 6. It's evident Alex excels in the game of cribbage, as he bent out his nearest opponent by a good margin and at the Camrose Games four years ago, came close to winning the gold.

Eleanor Danyluk and Mary Blackmore of Winfield, enjoyed a bus tour recently to Yellowstone, N.W.T. and Fort Rae, an Indian village.

Ted and Maryann Macchorski passed through Jasper on their way to Mount Robson, where they enjoyed camping and hiking for a few days.

Lars and Doris Larson, Roy Parker and Lil Leroux attended the 88th anniversary for Jack and Angie Edgerston of Rocky Mountain House.

The backyard lawn at the home of Faye Bladen made a beautiful setting for the bridal shower honoring Sandie Olsen and Tracy Watson Aug. 8. Tracy and Sandie were married Aug. 20 in Midway, B.C.

PUBLIC
PARTICIPANTS

Welcome back! The 1988/89 school year holds the promise of many new learning experiences and opportunities for personal growth. My sincere wishes are:

That all students experience success and the pride of accomplishment that comes with it

That all parents and community members actively support the efforts of children and the neighborhood schools they attend.

That the staff continue to be ready, willing and able to provide a top quality educational service, which has become the trademark of the County of Parkland School System.

If we work together in a positive, meaningful way, students will succeed and the community of the future will benefit from the contributions they surely will make

On behalf of the County of Parkland Board of Education, I wish to reaffirm our commitment to children and quality during this new school year of opportunity

M. W. Tkachuk
Superintendent of Schools

WE'RE CHANGING WITH THE TIMES

Commencing September 1, 1988, the County of Parkland No. 31 School System will be reorganized into two school jurisdictions.

The larger educational system will continue to be the County of Parkland No. 31 and will operate twenty-two public schools serving Spruce Grove, Story Plain, Wabamun, Entwistle, Edmonton Beach and rural areas within the County.

A second educational system called the Twin Rivers School Division No. 65 will form to eventually serve Drayton Valley, Breton and the rural areas within the new Municipal District of Brazeau.

For a transition period September 1, 1988 to December 31, 1988, while the new School Division is becoming organized, the County of Parkland will continue to provide services to all areas it previously served.

SCHOOL BUS SERVICE FOR 1988-89 ATTENTION: PARENTS OF STUDENTS RIDING SCHOOL BUSES

There will be no major changes in busing for this school year except for bus Nos. 308 and 313 which will serve both Blueberry and Stony Plain schools.

The following general guidelines should be followed to determine bus assignments:

- a) ride the same bus as the previous year
- b) ride same bus as siblings
- c) ride same bus as neighbor's children
- d) contact the bus operator
- e) contact the Transportation Department

* for children who are attending a County sanctioned program
 there are special needs and circumstances that may have to be brought to the attention of the Transportation Department

There is no need to register through the Transportation Department if you know which bus to ride on and the time the bus leaves past your nearest pick-up point. New students will be given a registration form for parents to complete and return during the first two weeks of school. Your prompt attention to this matter is solicited.

SCHOOL BUS FEES BUSING IN CITY, TOWN AND VILLAGE AREAS

The fee for any child using the bus in service provided in city, town and village areas is $25.00 per child. Under the family plan the maximum fee per family is $65.00. A recent photograph of the student is required.

CROSS BOUNDARY BUSING

Students using County buses to attend schools other than those which they have been designated to attend by the Board of Education shall be charged a fee.

Fee per child: $185.00
Maximum fee per family: $352.00

Students are eligible for such busing provided that:

- 1. a "Parent Request for Transfer of Student Within the County" form, available at all schools, has been authorized by the Deputy Superintendent of Schools.
- 2. there is available space on the school bus.
- 3. the school bus does not have to be diverted from the regular approved route and;
- 4. the school is able to accommodate the child in the program.

Cross boundary passes are authorized and issued on a yearly basis, upon completion of a "Parent Request for Transfer Form". For further details please contact the Transportation Department or the Deputy Superintendent's office at 963-2231.

Limping better than running

Thomas said to Jesus, "Lord, we do not know where you are going, so how can we know the way?"

Jesus had just told his disciples that He wanted them where He himself was. And He added, "You know the way to the place where I am going."

Thomas thought Jesus was talking about geography, so he was confused, just as we often become in trying to arrive at satisfactory decisions about life. Where should I go? Should I change my job? Get married? What should I do? These are the questions that come up frequently in life.

These and other questions come down to one question: What is the way, how do I find it and take it? Jesus' answer to this is that He is the way and the going, the truth and the knowing, the life and the living. Life is not so much about what we do, it's about our relationship with Jesus Christ.

Peter discovered this painfully. When he was rebuked by Jesus for denying that Jesus would have to suffer, he was confronted with a choice, his own idea of what Jesus would be doing versus Jesus'.

At the washing of the feet he was confronted by his own way or Jesus'. Peter was certain that Jesus should

From the Pastor's pen

By Father Carroll
St. Anthony Church

have nothing to do with serving His disciples, because power was given to rule, which is not the way with Jesus who said it was to serve. Whose way? Peter backed down when Jesus said, "If I do not wash your feet, you will no longer be My disciple."

In his denial of Jesus, Peter was locked into his own guilt and fear. But when Jesus looked at him he broke down and wept and was freed to make another choice, Christ's way over his own. To make that choice he had to give up ideas about his own strength and loyalty.

Finally Peter was confronted with another decision. After the resurrection Peter became worried about how close the disciple John was to Jesus, whether John would be free from death. And Jesus said to him, "What difference does it make to you? Follow Me."

We are all faced with similar choices as it becomes clear how radical a decision it is to follow Jesus Christ. He is to be preferred to all things. Christ is the way, and as St. Thomas Aquinas said "We often limp along the way still, limping along the way is better than running full speed in some other way - our own."

Single vehicle mishap

RCMP in Drayton Valley are still investigating the cause of this single-vehicle truck mishap on 50th Street south of the town limits, and across from the entrance into the Pleasant View trailer park on Sunday, Aug. 14.

Tourney a success

Buck Lake

By Bernice Johnson
The Rimby Silver Bullets were the champions in the A division of the mixed slow pitch tournament held recently and took home the $500 prize money Sardine Lakers won second.

Bretan Outlaws won the B division and the $400 prize while the Buck Lake Lakers settled for the $300 second place prize.

The C division went to the Ari Esso team from Rimby and the Buck Lake Whiskey Jacks received $200 for achieving second place.

Sixteen teams from Rimby, Round Hill, Lindale, and Bretan areas competed for the $2,300 prize money. Trophies were awarded to the most valuable players in the final games.

Karen Becker and Heather Hrusz would like to thank their teammates who helped in organising and running the tournament, to make the tourney such a success.

Fresh pineapple

It's surprising what a change of scenery will do. Michelle Keomanivong proudly displays a pineapple grown in their Hillcrest apartment. The original plant was brought back from Hawaii four years ago but it wasn't until it was moved to Keomanivong's apartment in January that it started to produce. It was cut off the plant and prepared for eating last Wednesday.

New name for county police

County of Parkland Police may soon have to wipe the last word off their insignias and car doors and begin using a more accurate term for identification.

Passage of the Police Act this summer means organizations not actually responsible for true law enforcement can no longer call themselves 'police'.

More accurate names such as special constable or bylaw enforcement officer will have to be used instead.

Enforcement of the new act won't be immediate. It will be up to the solicitor general to decide when to enforce the new provisions once everything gets up and running under the act.
